

co 2	PAGES		TOP SEC	· · · · ·	DATE June	\ 183 29 = 1965
ķ		РНОТО	ITRAL INTELLIGEN RAPHIC INTELLIG GRAPHIC INTELLIG	SENCE DIVISION
4 di
	ZHVAN	OVSHIP	YARD 190,	LENINGR	AD, USS	R 25X1
			1A/DID 70	12/45		0
	•		IA/PIR-70	13/03	2 3 3 4 4 5 4 5 4 5 4 5 4 5 4 5 6 5 6 5 6 5 6
.	k			ROEWO
To the second	7	, .	Dinis Maria	No.		2574
						25X1
						113.14
						Ash in
						This is

25X1

TOP SECRET CIA, PHOTOGRAPHIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION SHIPYARD: ZHDANOV SHIPYARD 190 LOCATION: LETHINGRAD, USER GEO COORDS: 59 52N-30 lb KEEV TO ANNOTATIONS 1. Two U/I merchantmen. Clouds and obliquity make identification impossible, but the hull shape is not that of a combatant. Both ships appear to be of the same class. 2. Possible DD. The hull is that of a combatant and enough bridge area detail is discernable to allow a possible destroyer identification. 3. Possible U/I combatant. 4. Possible U/I combatant. 5. Possible U/I combatant) NOTE: a. The hull outlines which are faintly discernable on items 3-5 resemble combatent hull designs more than merchant hull designs. b. Reliable mensural data could-not be obtained due to the extreme obliquity and haziness of the photography.
SHIPYARD : ZHDANOV SHIPYARD 190 LOCATION : LEWINGRAD, USSR GEO COORDS: 59 52N-30 14E KEY TO ANNOTATIONS 1. Two U/I merchantmen. Clouds and obliquity make identification impossible, but the hull shape is not that of a combatant. Both ships appear to be of the same class. 2. Possible DD. The hull is that of a combatant and enough bridge area detail is discernable to allow a possible destroyer identification. 3. Possible U/I combatant. 4. Possible U/I combatant. NOTE: a. The hull outlines which are faintly discernable on items 3-5 resemble combatant hull designs more than merchant hull designs. b. Reliable meneural data could not be obtained due to the extreme obliquity and haziness of the photography.	25X1	TOP SECRET	25X1
SHIPYARD : ZHDANOV SHIPYARD 190 LOCATION : LEWINGRAD, USSR GEO COORDS: 59 52N-30 14E KEY TO ANNOTATIONS 1. Two U/I merchantmen. Clouds and obliquity make identification impossible, but the hull shape is not that of a combatant. Both ships appear to be of the same class. 2. Possible DD. The hull is that of a combatant and enough bridge area detail is discernable to allow a possible destroyer identification. 3. Possible U/I combatant. 4. Possible U/I combatant. NOTE: a. The hull outlines which are faintly discernable on items 3-5 resemble combatant hull designs more than merchant hull designs. b. Reliable meneural data could not be obtained due to the extreme obliquity and haziness of the photography.			25
LOCATION: LENINGRAD, USSR GEO COORDS: 59 52N-30 14E KEY TO ANNOTATIONS 1. Two U/I merchantmen. Clouds and obliquity make identification impossible, but the hull shape is not that of a combatant. Both ships appear to be of the same class. 2. Possible DD. The hull is that of a combatant and enough bridge area detail is discernable to allow a possible destroyer identification. 3. Possible U/I combatant. 4. Possible U/I combatant. 5. Possible U/I combatant hull designs more than merchant hull designs. b. Reliable mensural data could not be obtained due to the extreme obliquity and haziness of the photography.	•	CIA, PHOTOGRAPHIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION
LOCATION: LENINGRAD, USSR GEO COORDS: 59 52N-30 14E KEY TO ANNOTATIONS 1. Two U/I merchantmen. Clouds and obliquity make identification impossible, but the hull shape is not that of a combatant. Both ships appear to be of the same class. 2. Possible DD. The hull is that of a combatant and enough bridge area detail is discernable to allow a possible destroyer identification. 3. Possible U/I combatant. 4. Possible U/I combatant. 5. Possible U/I combatant hull designs more than merchant hull designs. b. Reliable mensural data could not be obtained due to the extreme obliquity and haziness of the photography.			·
1. Two U/I merchantmen. Clouds and obliquity make identification impossible, but the hull shape is not that of a combatant. Both ships appear to be of the same class. 2. Possible DD. The hull is that of a combatant and enough bridge area detail is discernable to allow a possible destroyer identification. 3. Possible U/I combatant. 4. Possible U/I combatant. 5. Possible U/I combatant NOTE: a. The hull outlines which are faintly discernable on items 3-5 resemble combatant hull designs more than merchant hull designs. b. Reliable mensural data could not be obtained due to the extreme obliquity and haziness of the photography.	•	LOCATION : LENINGRAD, USSR	25X1 impossible, but the hull shape is not that of a combatant. Both ships appear to be of the same class. 2. Possible DD. The hull is that of a combatant and enough bridge area detail is discernable to allow a possible destroyer identification. 3. Possible U/I combatant. 4. Possible U/I combatant. 5. Possible U/I combatant) NOTE: a. The hull outlines which are faintly discernable on items 3-5 resemble combatant hull designs more than merchant hull designs. b. Reliable mensural data could not be obtained due to the extreme obliquity and haziness of the photography.	-	\ KEY TO ANNOTATIONS detail is discernable to allow a possible destroyer identification. 3. Possible U/I combatant. 4. Possible U/I combatant. 5. Possible U/I combatant) NOTE: a. The hull outlines which are faintly discernable on items 3-5 resemble combatant hull designs more than merchant hull designs. b. Reliable mensural data could not be obtained due to the extreme obliquity and naziness of the photography.	. .	impossible, but the hull shape is not that of a combatant. B
4. Possible U/I combatant. 5. Possible U/I combatant NOTE: a. The hull outlines which are faintly discernable on items 3-5 resemble combatant hull designs more than merchant hull designs. b. Reliable mensural data could not be obtained due to the extreme obliquity and haziness of the photography.		detail is discernable to allow a possible destroyer identific
NOTE: a. The hull outlines which are faintly discernable on items 3-5 resemble combatant hull designs more than merchant hull designs. b. Reliable mensural data could not be obtained due to the extreme obliquity and haziness of the photography.	40 resemble combatant hull designs more than merchant hull designs. b. Reliable mensural data could not be obtained due to the extreme obliquity and haziness of the photography.		5. Possible U/I combatant)
b. Reliable mensural data could not be obtained due to the extreme obliquity and haziness of the photography.		NOTE: a. The hull outlines which are faintly discernable on ite resemble combatant hull designs more than merchant hul	ms 3-5 1 designs.
	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	b. Reliable mensural data could not be obtained due to th
25X1
25X1
25X1		Marine De Lill Marine
25X1
25X1			, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , ,
25X1	X1.
25X1
25X1
			25X1

TOP SECRET

